THE CHOLERA.

To Deaths or Additional Cases Since Friday-Necessity for a Permanent Hospital-Quarantine Regulations, &c. Heapital—Quarantine Regulations, &c.
The favorable report made by Dr. Swinburne, on Fridny last, has been very pleasingly verified by subsequent events. On visiting the Dector at the quarantine combishment, Staten Island, yesterday, it was accertained that no deaths had taken place nor had any additional case a bear received on board the Faicon since the last report of Dr. Bissell, published in the Hruand of yesterday. On board the hospital ships everything was protensing very favorably, and the industions were that is in a fair way of recovery.

NECESSITY FOR QUARANTINE BUILDINGS. quarantine buildings is becoming every day more apparent. Floating hospitals are only really useful in cases of emergency. Everything indicates that during the present summer large numbers of persons will arrive from ports infected with cholera, yellow fever and other infections diseases, and it is imperatively necessary that ammediate steps he taken to provide temporary sheds on some isolated place, to which all sick passengers can be transferred. The project for building a quarantine hospital on the West Bank, and fer which four hundred thousand dollars have been appropriated by the State Logislature, cannot possibly be carried out, and the buildings made ready for use under six months, what is to be done during the summer months must be speedily settled by the Board of Health, and the sooner the better. Sick passengers now arriving in the lower hay cannot be transferred to the floating hospital during entropy and windy weather, hence another necessity for providing a hospital on terra firma, where there is a dock to which infected vessels can be moored. Fire Island, Barren Island, Concy Island and several other places have been talked of as suitable places, but up to date we have not heard that the initiatory steps have been taken to secure a suitable locality.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

Accentage to secure a suitable locality.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

at this port, as laid down in the laws relative to quarantine at the port of New York, are very stringent, and if thereughly carried out will prove the means of keeping the cholera and other infectious diseases out of the city, or at any rate of rendering the dreaded visitation of short duration. Money and power have both been meted out to those in charge of these matters with no niggardly hand, and it only remains with the authorities to use them to the best advantage, thus saving the lives of our citizens and advancing the commercial presperity of the metropolis.

This association, formed of some of the first young men of this city, is now prepared for the great enter-prise before it. The management have taken for a gen-eral office room No. 3 at 194 Broadway. They have added to their list of trustees some twenty more names of our first families. The officers of the association will be at the general office at all hours. They have been inbe at the general office at all hours. They have been indefatigable in their exertions to perfect this organization, and now that it is about completed, it is to be hoped they may meet with the success the association deserves. The association is negotiating for some large buildings for hospital purposes, and in case the epidemic should appear among us will be ready to take charge of the sick at a moment's notice. The managers have, since they commenced active operations, had applications from over one hundred persons for relief, among them those who have been attacked with the ship or typhus fever. As those are diseases as dangerous as choicar they should be supplied with the necessaries to relieve them. The association invites those who may desire to join them, to call at their office 194 Broadway, and enroil their names. It is also the desire of the association that all male and female nurses who intend romaining in the city the coming summer should call at the office and leave their addresses that they may be found when necessary.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

HAVERSTRAW, N. Y., April 27, 1866.

Dras Sir-I noticed in your issue of to-day in the pply the flower of sulphur to the feet as a preventive es not visit the vicinity of sulphur springs. You are does not visit the vicinity of sulphur springs. You are no doubt aware that Haverstraw is noted for the manufacture of brick, in the burning of which sulphurous fumes are evolved; and it is said to be owing to the prevalence of the fumes thus generated that this place and its vicinity has enjoyed its immunity from the spidemic during the former visitations.

The value of sulphur as a remedial agent against animalculae of various kinds has long been known. It is a curious fact, that it should also be an efficient agent against the infusorial life of the dread infection.

rrival of the Steamship Erin. A TEDIOUS PASSAGE, BUT NO SICENESS ON BOARD.
The steamship Erin, of the National Steam Navigation

The twelve hunwhich places he certain the first state of the cecan in the Erin-which steamer belongs to the same line as the Virginia and England, both cholera bearers—reached the city in perfect health. New Jersey is again in the field in opposition to the taking of the waste land known as Sandy Hook for a parantine station, as will be seen by the following exract from the Washington correspondence of the New-

The probabilities of the early increase of the cholera epidemic in New York have again started the authorities of your neighboring city and Nate on the project of securing the location of their quarantine baildings on Sandy Hook, notwithstanding the decidedly unfavorable action of the gene al government upon their application for permission of the latter to establish their pest-house dy Hook, notwithstanding the decidedly unfavorable action of the gene al government upon their application for permission of the latter to establish their pest house upon New Jersey soit, under the pretext that jurisdiction over the point of land in question had been redded by your State to the federal authorities for national purposes. Being informed of the intention of the New Yorkers to revice this once migatived application, ex-flowernor Parker yesterday telegraphed the fact to ex-flowernor Newell, who immediately waited upon Secretary Stanton and in conference with the latter learned that the War Department had since learned nothing which could change the decision already rendered, adverse to the application, upon the ground that as the cossion of the territory named was made for a special object the government had no right to transfer the same to New York for quarantine purposes without the consent of New Jersey; but the Secretary suggested a reterance of the matter to the President, and this morning Governor Newell secreted an interview with President Johnson, and received the most satisfactory assurances that his policy with regard to the right of every state to govern he own internal affairs would be applicable to the question under consideration, and that there is not the least dauger of the generation, and that there is not the least dauger of the generation with the applicable to the question, it may be taken as equivalent thereto, and your anxious neighbors over the ever will do well to make a note of it and govern them wices accordingly. This bappy application of "my villey" will doublies meet the approach of all Jerseyten, not excepting the most radical of the radicals.

yesterday morning. The details of the advices by the Hermann and Africa we give to-day, with our special correspondence from Paris, Madrid and Berliu. The Messageries Imperiales steamer Nil, with the Mau-ritius and Reumon mails, arrived at Marseilies, April 15,

From the Cape of Good Hope the advices are dated to the 15th of March. The drought had everywhere broken up, and copious rains had fallen all over the colony. The up, and copious rains had an early over the colonists were looking forward to prosperous farming and better prospects generally. Business was showing signs of improvement, and the commercial difficulties of signs of improvement, and the commercial the war be-the Eastern province had been overcome. The war be-tween the Fre State and the Basutos was still lingering on. The Free State Pari ament had formally decided in favor of rejecting the offer of mediation made by Sir P.

FRANCE.

Our Paris Correspondence.

Panis, April 13, 1808. ard Represen's Maximilian's Case as Desper ate—A Tumble in the Bourse in Anticipation of War— American Securities and President Johnson—The Gam-blers—General Schofield—Young American Ladies— Count Montelambert, de., de. I am enabled to state a fact which I know to be correct which may have an important bearing upon the fature conduct of Napoleon in his Mexican policy. Baron Sail-lard, upon his return from Mexico, had several long ws with the Emperor, and in them expressed freely to his Majesty the opinion gathered from a close observation in that country, that Maximilian had no chance of remaining in his present position any longer than he was supported by French troops, and that he believed it was the destiny of Mexico to beoverrun as Texas was by emigrants from the United States,

As to the promise which the Emperor Napo leen has made to remove his troops within the next twenty months, but little is said here in the papers. Among the people throughout France there is, however, a greater feeling of impa-here in the papera Among the people throughout France there is, however, a greater feeling of impatience now than ever before at this prolonged occupation, and when the formal documents are presented to the Corps Legislatif it is expected that there will be a dispay of opposition on the part of Jules Favre and the other opposition members which will exceed any demonstration yet made in that body.

There was a regular panic at the Bourse yesterday, in anticipation of the speedy breaking out of war between Prussia and Austria. The Italian loan tumbied, as defail the German securities. There is no double expressed here that, notwithstanding the quast denials of the Italian government, Italy is preparing for a union with Prussia as against Austria, and there is very hitle hope indulged in here that a war can be averted.

The uncertainty of European securities is giving a great impetus to a disposition to invest in those of your government, and it they were permitted to be quoted upon the Bourse large investments would be made in them here. Now that the President has confirmed by his hast veto his determination to put his foot down? against the radical disturbers the confidence in the perusanency and prosperity of sour government is greatly on the increase, and President Johnson stands to-day in Europe the great representative of civilized progress and a true conservatism.

It is again sad that one of the most seriously considered questions now before the Council of State, and one which has even attracted the attention of the Emission themself, is that of the regulation of the Parisian clue, in order to prevent, if possible, the young men of Paris from running themselves in the rapid manner in which they now are by gaming. Public gambiling is not now permitted in Paris, and there are in fact no places like your New York up town. We have a man overbusined with funds can drop in and relieve himself with a quiet light against the tiger. Major General J. M. Scholeid returned to Paris a few days since, after an abs rec o a few weeks, after which he will return to the United States.

Young American ladies in Paris are certainly gutting "in demand." At the grand fanty ball given last wanter by the Minister of Marine a young American lady, lines Beck with, daughter of the Commissioner for the dreat Exhibition, was selected to personate "France" in the grand tableau of nations, and on Wednesday evocing next, at a ball and parly at the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mass Beckwith, Mass Torrence, of New York and Miss Jessup, of Washington, are to appear in some tableaux and act in a French comedy.
